

How Can We Not Be Shamans?

Jacqui Beck - for Jenn, 2014

How can we not be Shamans?

We have seen the world from two sets of eyes.

We know what it is like to be seen as both woman and man.

We know what it's like to run our engine on testosterone estrogen.

We know how you treat us when we wear pants and grow a beard
when we wear a dress and a bra.

You think you have perspective on gender.
You think you know what it is to be a man, a woman.

Think.
Again.
